GAME PREVIEW

Your Newfoundland Regiment (3-2-0-0) continue their season opening eight game homestand this weekend at Mary Brown's Centre where they battle the Baie-Comeau Drakkar (0-4-0-1) on Saturday night at 7pm and Sunday evening at 4pm. After a hot start to life back in the Q for hockey fans on the rock, it was a challenging series last time out as the Charlottetown Islanders came to town last weekend and left with all four available points. Following a full week of high intensity preparation, the Regiment are poised to get back to winning ways against the Drakkar to start the month of October on the right foot. Limited tickets for both games are available online at tickets.nlregiment.com or in person at the Mary Brown's Centre Box Office.

THREE KEYS TO THE SERIES

SPECIAL TEAMS

The Regiment powerplay began the season on a mission against the Moncton Wildcats which was an integral part of their opening weekend sweep over the defending champions. If they can get the man advantage firing on all cylinders once again against Baie-Comeau, it could prove to be another busy weekend for the goal judge at Mary Brown's Centre. At the other end of the ice, the penalty kill could be deemed as a work in progress for Newfoundland through four games. A high flying 5-on-5 team that plays with a ton of energy, If the Regiment can find a way to clean up their special teams it should be a good recipe for success.

NHLers FIND THEIR FEET

While it's a great problem to have adding three players into your lineups by way of NHL camp, it should serve as no surprise the Regiment's top defensive pair and first line right winger needed a game or two to get settled back in here on the rock. After a quick turnaround to get back into the lineup last weekend against the Islanders, Sabres prospect Noah Laberge and Kraken pick Will Reynolds should see plenty of ice and prove a more comfortable duo against the Drakkar this time out. Same goes for Stars selection Dawson Sharkey whose physical presence and scoring threat make him a key piece of this team's fire power up front.

HOME COOKIN'

Opening the season with eight straight on home ice is a great opportunity for this team to make an impression both on their fanbase and across the league. At the halfway point, they've managed to split the points against two formidable opponents in Moncton and Charlottetown. Following the Baie-Comeau series, it doesn't get any easier for the Regiment as the top ranked team in the country — the Blainville-Boisbriand Armada — come to town to close out this month long homestand. No time like the present to take advantage of the support of this passionate St. John's crowd than this weekend against the Drakkar.
