GAME PREVIEW

Your Newfoundland Regiment (8-6-0-0) hope to stay hot on home ice this weekend at the Mary Brown's Centre as they host the Shawinigan Cataractes (6-3-1-2) on Saturday night at 7pm and Sunday evening at 4pm. The Regiment secured the series sweep over the Saint John Sea Dogs last weekend in their building with a 6-3 victory on Friday followed by a dominant 5-1 display on Saturday. A strong weekend saw Newfoundland string together three straight wins for the first time this season, creating some separation in the standings over a divisional rival in the process.

Opening November with another four home games is a great chance for the Regiment to get in a groove starting this weekend against a tough Cataractes team. Select tickets for this weekend and the rest of the season are available online at tickets.nlregiment.com or in person at the Mary Brown's Centre Box Office.

THREE KEYS TO THE SERIES

LOCKDOWN LACERTE

The Cataractes are a well rounded team from top to bottom but it's hard to ignore the individual stat line of forward Félix Lacerte in the early portion of the season. Leading the Q's goal scoring race with 14 in just 12 games played, the 19-year-old Trois-Rivieres, Quebec native has been instrumental in Shawinigan's early success to start 2025-26. Keeping him quiet could go along way if the Regiment aim for another strong weekend on home ice.

REGIMENT RUN SUPPORT

Leaning on a red hot powerplay and a potent top six earned the Regiment a pair of wins on the opening weekend against the defending champion Moncton Wildcats. Across a 64 season however, Newfoundland were always going to need a bigger contribution from the collective. That's exactly what we've seen of late as Dominic Pilote's return from injury has provided some extra scoring, Liam Arsenault has upped his offensive output and young players like Ben Veitch (away this weekend at the U17 Worlds) appear to be finding another gear as the season goes on. This next man up mentality will be pivotal if Newfoundland hope to pick up all four points against Shawinigan.

ONE CRACK AT THE CATARACTES

It may be early days in the season but Newfoundland and Saint John find themselves in a similar position heading into their first meeting of the 2025/26 campaign. Looking at the big picture, getting the best of the Sea Dogs across the year could be pivotal for the Regiment however as they'll see each other eight times in the next four months. No time like the present to start creating that gap with a fellow division rival, particularly on home ice in these next two contests.

Much like the menacing Blainville-Boisbriand Armada who came to town last month, these two games mark the only meetings against the Cataractes this season for the Regiment. Although last weekends sweep over the Sea Dogs and the opportunity against the Eagles next weekend feel that little bit more important given the battle for divisional placement, it's important not to glaze over the tough test in front of them: a Shawinigan side with real aspirations for a deep playoff run in the Western Conference.
