GAME PREVIEW

Your Newfoundland Regiment (13-11-1-1) play their final home games of the calendar year when they take on the Charlottetown Islanders (15-8-1-3) on Sunday and Monday at the Mary Brown's Centre. The Regiment have waited a week to get back out there and pick up where they left off following a 7-0 win over the Halifax Mooseheads on home ice last Saturday night. Sitting on 28 points and down to sixth in the Eastern Conference, Newfoundland come into the series six points behind Charlottetown, some three spots ahead of them in the conference standings.

Last time the Islanders came to town back in September, it was a pair of victories for the visitors as local netminder Donald Hickey played spoiler in the Charlottetown crease in back to back games. The Regiment will be hoping the second homecoming for Hickey and the collection of Newfoundlanders on the Islanders roster is a little less successful.

Puck drops at 4pm on Sunday and 7pm on Monday (game rescheduled from Saturday). Limited tickets for this series and the rest of the home games in the new year are available online at tickets.nlregiment.com or in person at the Mary Brown's Centre Box Office.

THREE KEYS TO THE SERIES

REST VS RUST

What was slated to be six straight days without a game unexpectedly reached seven this week for Newfoundland after inclement weather caused the Charlottetown flight to be cancelled. Instead of a Saturday series start, the Regiment and Islanders open their doubleheader on Sunday afternoon. It's important for the home side that the added time off serves as extra rest rather than a stall in their momentum.

GREAT GOALTENDING

Perhaps the biggest positive from last Saturday's 7-0 victory was the play of goaltender Chase Anderson whose 25 saves helped him secure the first shutout in team history. Although outings like those might be tough to ask for on a night to night basis, having faith in your last line of defence is always a major plus on the nights when the offence can't provide seven goals. With showings like that Anderson and his fellow netminders (Antoine Proulx & Mikus Vecvanags) can give this group the confidence they need to find some consistency heading into the new year.

STRONG 2025 FINALE

Before the turn of the year, the Regiment have nine games in the month of December to collect as many points as possible and gain some comfort in their place within the Eastern Conference standings. Just two of those however will come on home ice, with these two against the Islanders the last chance to grab a couple wins in their own building. No place like the Mary Brown's Centre around the holiday season to kickstart a solid run of results.
