GAME PREVIEW

It's been a long haul away from home but your Mooseheads (2-1-3-0) are back on Scotiabank Centre ice tonight for the first time since the September 19th Home Opener to face the Rouyn-Noranda Huskies (3-1-2-0). Halifax picked up four points in four games on the road and are set to kick off the longest home-stand of the season. The Herd will play the next six games on home ice and will look to gain some momentum in the win department. Tonight is Student Night at the rink. Puck drop is 7pm. Fans can watch on FloHockey and listen on Jack 92.9 FM. Tickets are on sale at Ticketmaster.ca.

SCOTT'S THOUGHTS

ENOUGH OT ALREADY

We've had our fill of overtimes early this season with five-of-the-six games going to an extra period. Unfortunately for the Moose, they have lost three of them including a pair over the weekend in Moncton and Saint John where they played only a combined 46 seconds of overtime and losing in quick fashion both nights. Hey, the single points are nice and they all add up – but personally I'm ready for the team to show a dominate effort and win convincingly in a 60-minute game. This team has lots of promise and has been touted as a contender and this home-stand is the time to show it. No more fooling around.

HIGH HOPES

It's been a good start on offence for Malik L'Italien who has began his NHL Draft season with six assists in six games. The smooth skating blueliner with great size has seen his name regularly included in lists projecting him as a First Round pick for next June's NHL Entry Draft, especially after his great showing at the Hlinka Gretzky Cup where he helped Canada win the Gold Medal. Several national media outlets have him ranked anywhere between 17th and 37th overall and he will have more chances to display his skills amongst fellow prospects in the October 28th QMJHL Prospects Game in Gatineau.

PROVE YOURSELF

It hasn't exactly been an ideal start to the season for goalie Jack Fichthorn in the stats department, with a 5.16 goals against average and an ugly .782 save percentage - but we can't be so quick to place the blame on the 19-year-old from Darien, CT. I honestly think he has been the victim of a series of bad circumstances in terms of poor defensive coverage in front of him. He allowed three goals on four shots on Sunday before settling in but two of them were power play tallies and he was screened by his own defenceman on another. So many of the goals given up so far seem to be on odd-man rushes where Mooseheads defencemen are caught way up the ice and out of position, leaving their goalie out to dry. Mind you, a clutch save here or there would come in handy and may spark the team. However, I'm not ready to give up on the netminder and will reserve judgment until we have a larger sample size. Let's hope for a statement game from Fichthorn very soon.
