OCTOBER 23 · SCOTIABANK CENTRE

Steele AUTO GROUP

GAME PREVIEW

We have Friday night hockey on tap in Halifax tonight as your Mooseheads (5-1-3-1) are ready to defend Scotiabank Centre ice versus the Cape Breton Eagles (3-3-1-3) at 7pm. It is First Responders Night with large groups in attendance from the firefighting, police, EHS and corrections communities joining us. We'll have a chance to salute them as Flag Party representatives participate in a pre-game ceremony ahead of the puck drop. Fans can find tonight's game on Eastlink Community TV, FloHockey and Jack 92.9 FM. Tickets are on sale at Ticketmaster.ca.

SCOTT'S THOUGHTS

SOLID STREAK

While things haven't been perfect for the Mooseheads results-wise so far this season, things have been pretty good. It's hard to argue with points in nine-of-10 games, including points in each of the five home games played so far. Halifax enters the night in fourth place in the Eastern Conference standings, five points behind first place Newfoundland. The team's points percentage is third best in the conference at .700. Long story short, after the small sample size of 10 games – it could be better, but it's also a pretty strong start to the year.

SHAKEUP

It's never easy to see someone let go from staff and this week was no different when it was announced that Josh Hepditch was relieved of his duties after a little more than one season on the job. He is a solid individual who worked tirelessly along with his fellow coaches but unfortunately, the power play and defence were both areas of focus for his role and while they were considered strengths entering the season, the numbers suggest both have underperformed. We all wish Josh the best moving forward. The team is currently searching for a replacement with no imminent timeframe for announcing a new hire.

CRISIS IN CAPE?

The biggest disappointment in the QMJHL so far this season has been the performance of the Cape Breton Eagles. While the recent results have been a tad better, it's been a tough start for the team that was hyped by every league expert as being the favourite to walk away with the Gilles Courteau Trophy as Q champs at the end of the year. The Eagles were so bad out of the gate - winning just two of their first nine – that team ownership released an apology to fans. They grabbed a much-needed win last weekend against the Sea Dogs and will no doubt be very hungry tonight in the battle for two points between a pair of clubs hunting for some major positivity in their respective dressing rooms.
