GAME PREVIEW

Make it two wins in a row for your Halifax Mooseheads (8-4-3-1) who scored an impressive 4-1 victory at home last night against Cape Breton, stopping the red-hot Eagles in their tracks. The Moose are ready to go again tonight on Scotiabank Centre ice as they entertain the visiting Saint John Sea Dogs at 7pm. It's a battle between a pair of teams locked at 20 points apiece in the standings, with the winner set to takeover sole possession of third place in the Eastern Conference. Tonight's game will also feature the 4th Annual Wiener Dog Race during the second intermission as Dolce returns to defend his title. Listen or watch tonight's game on FloHockey and Jack 92.9 FM. Tickets are on sale at Ticketmaster.ca.

SCOTT'S THOUGHTS

TAKING THE CREASE

Last night was another statement by goalie Carson Mertz that he deserves to keep getting the nod as much as possible. His 39-save performance earned him the first star of the game and was his second straight start after also earning the win last Sunday in Sherbrooke. Whether the coaching staff decides to go back to him for a third straight game wasn't known at the time this was written, but I say why not? Let him go until he falters. Jack Fichthorn certainly hasn't done anything wrong, but Mertz has just grabbed the bull by the horns in his opportunities during a time when the team has really needed it. Let him carry the load while the expected stars on offence get things figured out. He has earned it.

TAKE A GLANCE

We get to see a team tonight that is in a similar position as the Mooseheads in whatever you can call a Junior hockey cycle these days. The Saint John Sea Dogs have been active in the American market much like Halifax, Moncton, Quebec and others in order to set themselves up to contend this season. While most everyone is talking about Alexis Joseph, another player in particular that has really stood out has been NHL Draft prospect Jamie Glance. He is one of those players that is simply fun to watch with his skating and creative abilities. The 18-year-old from New Hampshire is leading the Sea Dogs in scoring with 21 points.

BRADY BUNCH

It was a fell-good moment to see defenceman Brady Smith score his first career goal last night in his first game back after suffering an upper body injury in the first week of the season. Aside from the goal, Smith looked incredibly comfortable playing alongside Captain Owen Phillips on the top pairing, and his legs didn't look like a guy who had not been in game action in six weeks. If he can continue playing like that and the Moose get Nico Uschan back from his nagging injury soon, then we can start feeling pretty good about the players on the blueline.
