TERIK PARASCAK NAMED WHL'S ROOKIE OF THE WEEK FOR 2ND CONSECUTIVE WEEK

Terik Parascak's dream rookie season continues.

The 17-year-old from Lethbridge, AB has been named the WHL's Rookie of the Week for the second consecutive week.

Parascak has amassed an impressive six points over the last four games, including four goals and two assists (4G-2A-6PTS). The Cougar rookie continues to assert his dominance, leading the WHL in multiple categories, including goals (12), power-play goals (T-1st, 4), and short-handed goals (T-1st, 2). Furthermore, he tops all rookies in points (18), goals (12), and boasts an impressive plus-minus rating of +11.

"Again, I have to credit this to my team," Parascak humbly said after winning the award. "Our team is clicking right now and so is our line. It's pretty fun right now."
