PLAYER PROFILE

19 MADDUX SCHULTZ

At just 15 years old, Schultz has already made a name for himself on the national stage. Last season, the Regina product led the Pat Canadians to their first Telus Cup title since 1999, earning tournament MVP after piling up 20 points in seven games — the second-most ever by an underager, behind only Sidney Crosby. He even scored the overtime winner in the championship game.

During the regular season, Schultz dominated the Saskatchewan Male AAA Hockey League with 93 points (43G-50A) in 44 games, taking home both Player of the Year and Rookie of the Year. The year before, he had 134 points in just 27 games with the Pat Blues U15s, earning a rare exemption to move up to U18 early.

The Pats made Schultz the first overall pick in the 2025 WHL Prospects Draft, just the third player in franchise history to go first overall, joining Connor Bedard and Colten Teubert. He was also the only 2010-born player invited to Canada's U-17 Development Camp this summer and is a strong candidate to suit up at the World U-17 Hockey Challenge in November.

SCOUTING REPORT

PRINCE ALBERT RAIDERS

The Prince Albert Raiders are 1-0-1 to start the season, taking three of a possible four points in a weekend series with the Saskatoon Blades. The Raiders are coming off a 3-2 overtime loss to the Blades at the SaskTel Centre following a 4-2 win over the Blades in their home opener.

The Raiders won the East Division in 2024-25, and finished second in the conference with a 39-23-5-1 record and 84 points.

The Raiders defeated the Edmonton Oil Kings in seven games in round one before being swept by Medicine Hat in round two.

The Raiders are led by 20-year-old forwards Aiden Oiring and Brayden Dube, as they both have three points in two games this season.

Last season, the Pats battled hard with the Raiders, with four of the eight meetings going to overtime to shootout.

PLAYER TO WATCH

10 DAXON RUDOLPH

Prince Albert Raiders star defenceman Daxon Rudolph makes his first appearance at the Brandt Centre this season.

The Lacombe, Alta., product is projected to be a top-10 pick at this summer's NHL Entry Draft, currently ranked No. 9 by TSN's Craig Button.

The 17-year-old right-shot defenceman was selected first overall by the Raiders in the 2023 WHL Prospects Draft and did not disappoint in 2024-25, recording 41 points (7G-34A) in 64 games. He finished fourth in points among rookie defencemen and fifth among all rookies in assists, earning a nomination as a finalist for the WHL Rookie of the Year Award.

Rudolph also shined on the international stage this summer, helping Canada capture bronze at the 2025 Hlinka Gretzky Cup and gold at the World U18 Championship.
