PLAYER PROFILE

72 JULIEN MAZE

Seventeen-year-old forward Julien Maze has quickly emerged as one of the offensive leaders for the Regina Pats early in the 2025-26 season. The Edmonton, Alta. product currently leads the team in both assists and points, tallying 13 points (4G-9A) through nine games. Maze enters tonight's contest riding a three-game point streak, posting six points (1G-5A) over that span.

Standing 5-foot-10 and 170 pounds, the skilled left-shot winger brings creativity, vision, and pace to the Pats' forward group. Acquired from the Everett Silvertips in November 2024, Maze made an immediate impact last season, leading the Pats with 44 points (12G-32A) in 64 games. Originally selected 20th overall by Everett in the 2022 WHL Prospects Draft, he has developed into one of the most dynamic playmakers on Regina's roster.

This season marks Maze's first year of NHL Draft eligibility. On Monday morning, NHL Central Scouting released its Preliminary Players to Watch List for the 2026 NHL Draft, with Maze joining teammates Cohen Klassen and Zach Lansard among those recognized. All three Pats forwards received a "W" rating, identifying them as potential sixth- or seventh-round draft selections.

SCOUTING REPORT

After going all-in last season, the Lethbridge Hurricanes find themselves in a transition year for 2025-26 — one that follows an impressive playoff run.

In 2024-25, the Hurricanes were part of a thrilling three-team race atop the Eastern Conference with Calgary and Medicine Hat, finishing fourth with 89 points (42-21-3-2). Lethbridge carried that momentum into the postseason, sweeping Saskatoon in the first round and edging Calgary in a seven-game second-round series before bowing out to the Tigers in the Eastern Conference Final.

This season marks the beginning of a new chapter. The Hurricanes are led by captain Logan Wormald, who brings experience and leadership to a younger lineup. Alongside him, Shane Smith has been red-hot with 17 points (8G-9A) in 12 games, while Luke Cozens has chipped in 15 points (6G-9A) through the same span.

The next generation is already making its mark, highlighted by former first-round pick Tyden Lafournaise and Gavin Lesiuk, a promising prospect to watch ahead of the 2026 NHL Draft.

PLAYER TO WATCH

18 LOGAN WORMALD

The 33rd captain in Lethbridge Hurricanes history, Logan Wormald, has been on a tear to start the 2025-26 campaign, tallying 15 points (5G-10A) through his first 12 games. The 20-year-old veteran leads the Hurricanes in assists and continues to be a driving force behind their offence.

Nicknamed “The Worm” for his knack of getting under opponents’ skin while contributing offensively, Wormald made an immediate impact as a 16-year-old rookie in 2021-22, posting 38 points (14G-24A) in 55 games. Since then, he’s developed into one of the WHL’s most reliable offensive players, amassing 225 points (90G-135A) over 248 career games.

The Langley, B.C., product is coming off a career-best season in 2024-25, where he recorded 70 points (30G-40A) in 57 games. With his WHL career nearing its end, Wormald has already committed to the University of Nebraska-Omaha, where he’ll continue his hockey journey next season.
