PLAYER PROFILE

10 KEETS FAWCETT

Veteran forward Keets Fawcett has been red hot of late, collecting four points (2G-2A) in his last two games, highlighted by an impressive three-point effort (2G-1A) against the Moose Jaw Warriors on October 31.

The Grimshaw, Alta. product joined the Pats in November 2024 from the Calgary Hitmen, arriving alongside Reese Hamilton in the Tanner Howe trade. After an up-and-down 2024-25 campaign that saw him post 19 points (8G-11A) in 44 games with Regina, Fawcett has bounced back in a big way this season.

The 5-foot-11, 171-pound left-shot forward has notched 13 points (8G-5A) through 14 games, already nearing last year's goal total. His strong start has brought flashes of his impressive rookie season with Calgary, where he tallied 45 points (19G-26A) in 65 games after going undrafted in the WHL Prospects Draft.

SCOUTING REPORT

CALGARY HITMEN

The Calgary Hitmen had a season to remember in 2024-25, finishing third in the Eastern Conference with a 45-17-3-3 record and 96 points — their highest total since the 2013-14 campaign, when they posted 103 points.

In the playoffs, the Hitmen swept the Saskatoon Blades in the first round before falling in a thrilling seven-game series against their divisional rivals, the Lethbridge Hurricanes, in Round 2.

This season, Calgary has carried that momentum forward, sitting fifth in the East with a 10-3-1-0 record and 21 points through 14 games. Despite the departure of Ben Kindel, who finished second on the team with 99 points last season before being selected 11th overall by the Pittsburgh Penguins and making the jump to the NHL, the Hitmen continue to produce offensively.

The Club has received key contributions from rookie forward Kale Dach, along with returning veterans Brandon Gorzynski and Ethan Moore. Calgary's roster also boasts several NHL-drafted players, including Gorzynski (Dallas Stars), Dach (Pittsburgh Penguins), and Axel Hurtig (Calgary Flames), giving the team a balanced mix of young talent and experienced leadership as they look to remain among the WHL's elite.

PLAYER TO WATCH

22 KALE DACH

Rookie forward Kale Dach has made an immediate impact with the Calgary Hitmen, emerging as one of the team's top offensive threats early in the season. The 18-year-old from Fort Saskatchewan, Alta. leads the Hitmen in scoring with 14 points (6G-8A) through 14 games and enters tonight's matchup riding a three-game point streak (2G-3A) with goals in back-to-back contests.

Dach joined the Hitmen this offseason following a breakout year that turned plenty of heads. The 5-foot-10, 165-pound skilled forward was selected by the Pittsburgh Penguins in the seventh round (201st overall) of the 2025 NHL Draft after a sensational season with the Sherwood Park Crusaders of the AJHL, where he posted 87 points (22G-65A) in just 54 games. His dynamic offensive ability, elite hockey sense, and vision made him one of the most exciting players in Junior A hockey last season.

Now in his first WHL campaign, Dach has wasted no time adjusting to the major junior pace. Committed to Penn State University for the 2026-27 season, Dach continues to develop his all-around game with Calgary while building toward his NCAA and professional future.
