PLAYER PROFILE

44 MATT PARANYCH

Third-year WHL defenceman Matt Paranych has become a cornerstone of the Regina Pats' defensive core this season. Night after night, the Edmonton, Alta. product logs heavy minutes, consistently ranking near the top of the team in time-on-ice. Whether it's quarterbacking the power play or holding things down at even strength, Paranych's reliability and composure have made him a trusted presence on the Pats' blue line.

Paranych began his WHL journey with the Medicine Hat Tigers, where he played parts of two seasons from 2023 to 2025 before being acquired by the Pats last December. Since joining Regina, the 18-year-old has blossomed into a smooth-skating, puck-moving defenceman capable of driving play from the back end.

This season, Paranych has produced 13 points (1G-12A) in 18 games, continuing to build off a strong 2024-25 campaign where he recorded seven goals and 21 points in 57 games. His blend of speed, vision, and confidence with the puck has made him one of the Pats' most dependable contributors at both ends of the ice.

Off the ice, Paranych's hard work has paid off as well — he recently earned an NCAA Division I commitment to Bowling Green University, where he'll continue his hockey career once his time in the WHL concludes.

SCOUTING REPORT

SWIFT CURRENT BRONCOS

The Swift Current Broncos wrap up a stretch of three games in three nights this afternoon against the Regina Pats.

The Broncos finished the 2024-25 season eighth in the Eastern Conference with 73 points (35-30-1-2), qualifying for the playoffs for the second straight year.

It was a busy offseason for Swift Current, as their top seven scorers from last season departed. General Manager Chad Leslie made several significant moves, dealing leading scorer Luke Mistelbacher and top defenceman Grayson Burzynski to the Brandon Wheat Kings. The club also traded Brady Birnie to the Penticton Vees and Rylan Gould to the Everett Silvertips in exchange for future assets.

The roster turnover continued as the Broncos lost Seattle Kraken prospect Clarke Caswell to the University of Denver.

Their biggest offseason addition came via a trade with the Calgary Hitmen, acquiring former WHL first-round pick Noah Kosick, who has emerged as the team's leading scorer at just 17 years old.

PLAYER TO WATCH

42 ANTHONY WILSON

Fifth-year WHL forward Anthony Wilson is living out a dream suiting up for his hometown Swift Current Broncos. The 20-year-old local product has made the most of his overage season, off to a strong start with 11 points (5G-6A) in 11 games while providing valuable veteran leadership to a young Broncos squad.

Standing 5-foot-10 and 194 pounds, Wilson is known for his speed, energy, and relentless work ethic. Over his WHL career, he has suited up in 250 games, collecting 37 goals, 48 assists, and 85 points across stints with Victoria, Brandon, Regina, Lethbridge, and now Swift Current.

Wilson spent parts of two seasons with the Regina Pats from 2023-2025 before being traded to the Lethbridge Hurricanes at last year's deadline. That move paid off, as he went on to make the playoffs for the first time in his career and played a key role in Lethbridge's run to the Eastern Conference Final.

Now back home in Swift Current, Wilson has become a steadying presence on and off the ice — a hometown leader capping off his WHL journey where it all began.
