PLAYER PROFILE

18 ZACH MOORE

Regina Pats forward Zach Moore reaches a major milestone tonight, skating in his 150th WHL game, a journey that has been closely tied to the Blue Brigade over the past three seasons.

Moore was acquired by the Pats on December 31, 2023, in a blockbuster deal that sent Alexander Suzdalev the other way, while bringing Moore, Dayton Deschamps, and multiple draft picks to Regina. Since that trade, the Saskatoon, Sask. product has become a familiar and reliable presence in the Pats lineup, with 113 of his 150 WHL games played in a Regina sweater.

This season, the 5-foot-11, 173-pound right-shot forward has contributed 15 points (6G-9A) in 30 games, building on a solid 2024-25 campaign where he posted 21 points (14G-8A) in 63 games. Moore made an immediate impact after arriving in Regina, bursting onto the scene with 11 points (6G-5A) in 20 games following the trade.

Originally selected in the second round (34th overall) of the 2021 WHL Prospects Draft by the Saskatoon Blades, Moore developed into a proven scorer at the U18 level. He enjoyed a standout 2022-23 season with the Saskatoon Contacts U18 AAA, recording 54 points (27G-27A) in just 36 games, showcasing the offensive instincts that continue to translate to the WHL level.

SCOUTING REPORT

MOOSE JAW WARRIORS

The Moose Jaw Warriors enter tonight's matchup holding down the seventh seed in the WHL's Eastern Conference, sitting with 41 points and a 18-24-3-2 record on the season.

The Warriors broke their three game skid with a 7-5 win over the Edmonton Oil Kings on Friday. They are now 3-3 over their last six games and are, coming off a successful U.S. road trip where they posted a 3-3 record with wins over Wenatchee, Seattle, and Spokane.

With captain Lynden Lakovic sidelined for the foreseeable future, Moose Jaw has leaned heavily on goaltender Chase Wutzke who has been tasked with stealing games.

Offensively, the Warriors are paced by breakout forward Landen McFadden, who leads the club with 50 points (21G-19A) in 46 games this season. Veteran presence has also been felt from the Warriors' 20-year-old core, as Aiden Ziprick, Pavel McKenzie, and Ethan Semeniuk have all enjoyed productive offensive campaigns.

From the blue line, 18-year-old defenceman Connor Schmidt has provided an added scoring dimension, leading Moose Jaw defenders with 14 goals.

PLAYER TO WATCH

35 CHASE WUTZKE

Chase Wutzke has quickly become a difference-maker between the pipes for the Moose Jaw Warriors.

The Minnesota Wild prospect was acquired from the Red Deer Rebels on Nov. 1, and the move has paid immediate dividends. Since arriving in Moose Jaw, Wutzke has helped stabilize the crease and fuel the Warriors' climb into the seventh seed in the WHL's Eastern Conference, posting a strong .908 save percentage in 20 games with his new Club.

The Debden, Sask. product brings a proven workload and playoff pedigree. Last season with Red Deer, Wutzke ranked fifth in the WHL with 50 appearances, finishing the campaign with a 17-25-4-1 record, 3.38 goals-against average, and .895 save percentage, often facing heavy shot volumes while anchoring the Rebels' crease.

One year earlier, the 6-foot-3 goaltender showcased his ability to elevate his game when it mattered most. Wutzke backstopped Red Deer into the postseason and played a key role in an opening-round upset of the Medicine Hat Tigers, posting a 2.82 GAA and .904 save percentage in 36 games. That standout season culminated in Wutzke being selected by the Minnesota Wild in the fifth round of the 2024 NHL Draft.
