PLAYER PROFILE

25 RUSLAN KARIMOV

Regina Pats forward Ruslan Karimov continues to trend upward as an important piece of the Blue Brigade's forward group, combining steady offensive production with a noticeable physical edge.

The Almetievsk, Russia product has picked up five points (3G-2A) over his last seven games, continuing to generate chances while playing a hard, north-south style. His recent play reflects the consistency he has brought to Regina's lineup throughout the season.

Karimov joined the Pats earlier this year after being claimed off CHL Import Waivers from the Sarnia Sting. A former sixth overall selection in the 2024 CHL Import Draft, the 6-foot, 201-pound winger made an immediate impression in North America last season, recording 29 points (15G-14A) as a 17-year-old rookie in Sarnia.

In his first campaign with Regina, Karimov has continued to round out his all-around game. Through 52 games, he has compiled 33 points (16G-17A), including six power-play goals, while firing 113 shots on net. His willingness to attack high-traffic areas and get pucks to the goal has made him a reliable contributor in multiple situations.

SCOUTING REPORT

The Lethbridge Hurricanes enter tonight looking to regroup after a tough 6-0 setback to the Edmonton Oil Kings on Saturday at Rogers Place. The defeat marked Lethbridge's sixth shutout loss of the season — and their fourth in the last 16 games — highlighting recent offensive struggles as the regular season winds down.

February proved to be a challenging stretch for the Hurricanes, who closed the month with a 2-6-2-0 record over 10 games. Overall, Lethbridge sits 17-40-2-1 and 10th in the Eastern Conference standings, continuing a rebuilding campaign focused on growth and development.

Despite the adversity, the Hurricanes still have eight games remaining on their regular season schedule, split evenly with four at home and four on the road.

There is, however, reason for optimism within the organization. Three Hurricanes players were ranked by NHL Central Scouting in the Midterm Rankings released January 12. Kyle Heger (67th), Gavin Lesiuk (177th) and Nathan Maloney (220th) were all listed among North American skaters.

PLAYER TO WATCH

29 OWEN BERGE

When the Lethbridge Hurricanes acquired Owen Berge from the Moose Jaw Warriors earlier this season, they were looking for added scoring punch. What they've received is a breakout campaign.

The 19-year-old forward from Edmonton, AB, has flourished in a Hurricanes uniform. Since joining Lethbridge, Berge has piled up 34 points (20G-14A) in 45 games, including nine power-play goals. He currently leads the Hurricanes with 21 goals on the season and sits tied for second in team scoring with 39 points overall.

Berge enters tonight's action red hot, having scored 11 goals in his last 15 games. His recent surge has helped drive Lethbridge's offense and showcased the finishing ability that made him an intriguing pickup earlier in the year.

The jump in production marks a significant step forward from last season, when Berge recorded 12 goals and 23 points in 68 games with Moose Jaw.

Now, with increased opportunity and confidence, he's on pace for 24 goals and 44 points — both career highs.
