OHL Celebrates 10th Season Of CMHA Talk Today Program

By Josh Sweetland

October 10, 2023

The Ontario Hockey League is celebrating a special milestone in partnership with the Canadian Mental Health Association (CMHA).

The OHL and CMHA collaborated to create the Talk Today program at the outset of the 2014 season. It has developed into one of the most comprehensive mental health awareness and suicide prevention programs for amateur sports in Canada. Talk Today promotes the mental health of young athletes and spreads awareness about the benefits of positive mental health throughout communities across the country.

In addition to participating in mental health and suicide awareness workshops, OHL teams are connected to a designated CMHA Mental Health Coach, connecting them with helpful resources and support. OHL member teams also host Talk Today game days during the month of February with related social media coverage to raise awareness and reduce the stigma associated with mental health and addiction issues.

“As a founding partner of Talk Today, it’s incredible to see the program reach its 10th season in junior hockey, and inspiring to see its growth across the country,” said OHL Commissioner David Branch. “Congratulations to CMHA Ontario and the local branches across Canada that support this initiative. The OHL is very thankful for our partnership and how it has benefitted players, staff and the entire OHL community since its inception. It’s important to extend thanks and appreciation to our players, who have embraced this program and, as a result, served as a valuable resource to others in the area of mental health awareness.”

“Talk Today wouldn’t be where it is today without the leadership and support of the OHL,” said CMHA Ontario CEO Camille Quenneville. “We’re proud to see how the program has evolved over the past 10 seasons, we’re thankful for all our partners across Canadian junior hockey, and we’re honoured to continue working with teams and leagues across the country. The OHL and their teams have been essential to Talk Today’s success and we cannot express enough how much we appreciate their continued support for the program.”

Since 2014, nearly 8,600 individuals across Canada, including 2,194 members of the OHL community, have received mental health and suicide awareness training through the program. The vast majority of individuals trained are athletes (7,598), but coaches (381), staff (217), billets and parents (400) have also participated in training, helping to create cultures of openness within athlete support networks. For more information about Talk Today, visit www.talktoday.ca and subscribe to the new Talk Today podcast on your preferred podcast app.

Erie Otters with the first overall pick in the 2023 OHL Priority Selection, select defenceman Matthew Schaefer. Schaefer played in the 2022-23 season with the Halton Hurricanes. In 25 games Matthew scored 12 goals & added 20 assists for 32 points.

Windsor Spitfires select centre Jack Nesbitt from Lambton Jr Sting with the 20th pick in the 2023 OHL Priority Selection.

OHL Priority Selection Process

In 2001, the Ontario Hockey League conducted the annual Priority Selection process by way of the Internet for the first time in league history.

The new process allowed for eligible players and their families, as well as fans across the league to follow the process in real time online.

The 2023 OHL Priority Selection will once again be conducted online beginning with Rounds 1-3 on Friday, April 21st at 7:00pm followed by Rounds 4-15 on Saturday, April 22nd at 9:00am. You can follow the entire process online at www.ontariohockeyleague.com and streaming live on OHL Live. Day 1 of the Priority Selection will be aired across the province on YourTV, Rogers tv, Eastlink, Cable 14 and Shaw Spotlight community stations, and will also be carried on the OHL Action Pak channel 463.

Player Eligibility

North American players born in 2007 and non-coverage players that were not registered with an Ontario based U16 AAA team from protected OHL territories are eligible for selection in the 15 rounds of the 2023 OHL Priority Selection.

Selected Players in the OHL

OHL Member Teams are permitted to register a maximum of four 16 year old players selected in the OHL Priority Selection. Those 16 year old players that are allowed to be signed are the first two 16 year old players selected and a maximum of two additional 16 year old wild carded players in any round of the OHL Priority Selection.

All other 16-year-old players selected are eligible to be called up as an “affiliated player” or “floating affiliate player” for a maximum of 10 games or for any OHL regular season or playoff games when such player’s team has been eliminated from competition for that season.

Order of Selection

The order of selection is determined by inverse order of finish during the past OHL regular season schedule of games with non-playoff teams participating in a lottery process to determine the order of selection for picks 1-through-4 in the first round. The Erie Otters were winners of the 2023 OHL Priority Selection Lottery and will select first overall.

OHL Central Scouting

The Central Scouting Bureau of the Ontario Hockey League is an information service and support organization designed to provide the Member Teams with a reference in regards to the players available for selection in the annual “Priority Selection Process.”

The primary objective of OHL Central Scouting is to identify, rate and rank players to be eligible for the Priority Selection, according to their OHL potential. OHL Member Teams combine player data received from the Central Scouting Bureau with evaluations from their team scouting staffs to make their player selections.

The OHL Central Scouting Bureau has been evaluating players since the 1975-76 season.

OHL PRIORITY SELECTION HISTORY

The “midget draft” has its roots dating back to the late 1960’s when it was held under the auspices of the OHA Junior “A” series as part of the Ontario Hockey Association’s annual meetings at the Royal York Hotel.

Through the years, the OHL Priority Selection was held at various locations in Toronto until 1981 when it found a home for 10 years at North York Centennial Arena. Its first time outside of Toronto was in 1991 when the Kitchener Rangers were the host.

The draft order is typically based on reverse order of the overall regular season standings beginning with non-playoff teams.

In 2022, a total of 303 players were selected in the 15-round process from 82 different teams across Ontario and parts of the United States. The selected players included 171 forwards, 93 defencemen, and a Priority Selection record 39 goaltenders. While 299 of the players chosen were 2006-born athletes, an additional three were born in 2005.

The Saginaw Spirit made the first overall pick after winning the 2022 OHL Priority Selection Draft Lottery held on April 20. The Spirit selected 2007-born forward Michael Misa of the OHL Cup champion Mississauga Senators to open the proceedings, making him the fifth exceptional status player to be taken first overall in Priority Selection history.

The Greater Toronto Hockey League led the way with a record 110 players selected from 13 different teams, with the OHL Cup champion Mississauga Senators joining the North York Rangers and Toronto Jr. Canadiens each with 15 chosen. The Markham Majors and Toronto Marlboros trailed close behind with 14 players selected from their respective rosters.

The Ontario Minor Hockey Association produced 68 selections from 16 different teams with the Quinte Red Devils developing a club record 12 of those. The Minor Hockey Alliance of Ontario produced 39 selections from nine different teams with the London Jr. Knights on top of the list with seven players selected. Hockey Eastern Ontario saw 24 players find their way onto OHL draft boards from 10 different teams with the Nepean Raiders and Ottawa Senators each producing five. The Northern Ontario Hockey Association had 11 players selected from across three teams as the North Bay Trappers developed five of those. An additional four players were selected from Ontario-based junior teams while one was drafted from an Ontario varsity program. A total of 46 players were chosen from across 25 different American-based teams led by the Detroit Little Caesars 15’s with seven players chosen.

It was a fitting Farewell to the Joe.

Sean Day grew up watching the Detroit Red Wings at Joe Louis Arena. The New York Rangers prospect stepped up in the building's final OHL game, writing his name in the record books to become the fourth Windsor Spitfires player and first defender in franchise history to record a hat-trick in the iconic venue.

A native of Rochester, Michigan, Day (8 ,9, 10) led the Spitfires back from a 2-0 deficit, scoring power play goals 21 seconds apart inside the final five minutes of the third period before lifting Windsor to a 3-2 victory 1:26 into the extra frame.

Day's natural hat-trick is the first regular season trio at The Joe since January 12, 1995 when Detroit's Tom Buckley scored three times in a 7-2 win over the Owen Sound Platers. He joins fellow Spitfires in Steve Gibson (5-2 W, Dec. 20, 1991), Craig Lutes (12-5 L, Mar. 17, 1993) and Bill Bowler (11-4 W, Oct. 16, 1994) in the ranks of Windsor players to accomplish the feat.

Anaheim Ducks prospect Julius Nattinen finished the afternoon with three assists as the Spits went 2-for-3 on the power play and climbed to 18-5-4-0 on the season before a crowd of 3,189.

The Spitfires outshot Saginaw 43-21 as Spirit netminder Evan Cormier turned aside 40 shots in the loss. Matthew Kreis (4) and Red Wings prospect Filip Hronek (4) scored goals for Saginaw.

The 130th and final regular season OHL contest at Joe Louis Arena sees the Windsor Spitfires improve their all-time regular season record at The Joe to 7-9-1 over 17 games.

Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathy

Hypertrophic cardiomyopathy (HCM) is a disease in which the heart muscle becomes thickened (hypertrophied). The thickened heart muscle can make it harder for the heart to pump blood.

Hypertrophic cardiomyopathy often goes undiagnosed because many people with the disease have few, if any, symptoms. However, in a small number of people with HCM, the thickened heart muscle can cause shortness of breath, chest pain or changes in the heart's electrical system, resulting in life-threatening irregular heart rhythms (arrhythmias) or sudden death.

Symptoms

Signs and symptoms of hypertrophic cardiomyopathy might include one or more of the following:

- Chest pain, especially during exercise
- Fainting, especially during or just after exercise or exertion
- Heart murmur, which a health care provider might detect while listening to the heart
- Sensation of fast, fluttering or pounding heartbeats (palpitations)
- Shortness of breath, especially during exercise

Causes

Hypertrophic cardiomyopathy is usually caused by changes in genes (gene mutations) that cause the heart muscle to thicken.

Hypertrophic cardiomyopathy typically affects the muscular wall (septum) between the two bottom chambers of the heart (ventricles). The thickened wall might block blood flow out of the heart. This is called obstructive hypertrophic cardiomyopathy.

If there's no significant blocking of blood flow, the condition is called nonobstructive hypertrophic cardiomyopathy. However, the heart's main pumping chamber (left ventricle) might stiffen. This makes it hard for the heart to relax and reduces the amount of blood the ventricle can hold and send to the body with each heartbeat.

People with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy also have a rearrangement of heart muscle cells (myofiber disarray). This can trigger arrhythmias in some people.

Risk Factors

Hypertrophic cardiomyopathy is usually passed down through families (inherited). People with one parent with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy have a 50% chance of having the genetic mutation for the disease.

Parents, children or siblings of a person with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy should ask their health care providers about screening for the disease.

Complications

Complications of hypertrophic cardiomyopathy can include:

- Atrial fibrillation. A thickened heart muscle and changes in the structure of heart cells can cause changes in the heart's electrical system, resulting in fast or irregular heartbeats. Atrial fibrillation can also increase the risk of developing blood clots, which can travel to the brain and cause a stroke.
- Blocked blood flow. In many people, the thickened heart muscle blocks the blood flow leaving the heart, causing shortness of breath with exertion, chest pain, dizziness and fainting spells.
- Mitral valve disease. If the thickened heart muscle blocks the blood flow leaving the heart, the valve between the left atrium and left ventricle (mitral valve) might not close properly. As a result, blood can leak backward into the left atrium (mitral valve regurgitation), possibly making symptoms worse.
- Dilated cardiomyopathy. In a small number of people with HCM, the thickened heart muscle becomes weak and ineffective. The ventricle becomes enlarged (dilated), and it pumps less forcefully.
- Heart failure. The thickened heart muscle can eventually become too stiff to fill the heart with blood. As a result, the heart can't pump enough blood to meet the body's needs.
- Fainting (syncope). An irregular heartbeat or blockage of blood flow can sometimes cause fainting. Unexplained fainting can be related to sudden cardiac death, especially if it's happened recently and in a young person.
- Sudden cardiac death. Rarely, hypertrophic cardiomyopathy can cause heart-related sudden death in people of all ages. Because many people with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy don't realize they have it, sudden cardiac death might be the first sign of the condition. It can happen in seemingly healthy young people, including high school athletes and other young, active adults.

Prevention

There is no known prevention for hypertrophic cardiomyopathy. It's important to identify the condition as early as possible to guide treatment and prevent complications.

If you have a first-degree relative — a parent, sibling or child — with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy, you might be referred for genetic testing to screen for the condition. However, not everyone with HCM has a currently detectable mutation. Also, some insurance companies don't cover genetic testing.

If genetic testing isn't done, or if the results aren't helpful, then a health care provider might recommend repeated echocardiograms if you have a family member with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy. Adolescents and competitive athletes should be screened once a year. Adults who don't compete in athletics should be screened every five years.

Mickey Renaud Captain's Trophy

- 2022-23: Nolan Dillingham (Sarnia)
- 2021-22: Mark Woolley (Owen Sound)
- 2019-20: Ty Dellandrea (Flint)
- 2018-19: Isaac Ratcliffe (Guelph)
- 2017-18: Justin Lemcke (Hamilton)
- 2016-17: Alex Peters (Flint)
- 2015-16: Michael Webster (Barrie)
- 2014-15: Max Domi (London)
- 2013-14: Matt Finn (Guelph)
- 2012-13: Colin Miller (Sault Ste. Marie)
- 2011-12: Andrew Agozzino (Niagara)
- 2010-11: Ryan Ellis (Windsor)
- 2009-10: John Kurtz (Sudbury)
- 2008-09: Chris Terry (Plymouth)

Dillingham was chosen for the award by a media selection committee as the OHL team captain that best exemplifies leadership on and off the ice, with a passion and dedication to the game of hockey and community that Mickey demonstrated.

"Receiving the Mickey Renaud Captain's Trophy is an amazing honour; I am incredibly grateful to have been selected," said Dillingham, who recently completed his fifth season in the Sting organization. "Through our last few seasons our coaching staff and management have been extremely supportive and worked with our leadership group to cultivate an environment that embraces discipline, hard work, and fun. It has always been our commitment to not only excel on the ice but also as a teammate, community leader and person. This season may have fallen short of the championship we all wanted, but the culture, environment and expectations we set are a big source of pride and hopefully something that will carry-on in Sarnia for years to come."

Ryan Ellis Received The Award In 2010-11

"It is always exciting to win personal awards but to receive one that recognizes your leadership is extra special for me," said Ellis. "Being able to learn from Mickey in my first year helped a lot, he always made everyone feel part of the team. This year I tried to do the same by making everyone feel comfortable and we were like a family in Windsor and I think it contributed to our success."
