CHL, OHL Mourn the Loss of David Branch

By Remo Agostino

The Canadian Hockey League (CHL), the Ontario Hockey League (OHL), and the hockey community at large mourn the passing of former CHL President and longtime OHL Commissioner David Branch, who died Sunday at the age of 77.

A native of Bathurst, New Brunswick and long-time resident of Whitby, Ontario, Mr. Branch's remarkable 45-year tenure as OHL Commissioner stands as a testament to his unwavering dedication to the development of young hockey players and the sport itself. From 1979 until his retirement in the summer of 2024, he guided the OHL through an era of unprecedented growth and progress, establishing standards that elevated junior hockey across the country.

His influence extended far beyond Ontario's borders. As President of the Canadian Hockey League from 1996 to 2019, Mr. Branch helped shape the landscape of major junior hockey in Canada, working tirelessly to enhance player development, educational opportunities, and the overall junior hockey experience. Under his stewardship, the CHL strengthened its position as the world's premier development league for young hockey talent.

Mr. Branch was a pioneer in prioritizing player welfare, championing initiatives that addressed player safety, mental health support, and educational advancement. His introduction of the OHL Scholarship Program ensured that players who passed through the league would have access to post-secondary education, recognizing that success in hockey should open doors both on and off the ice.

"This is a very sad day for a lot of people," said OHL Commissioner Bryan Crawford. "David's contributions to the game of hockey will continue to impact the game for generations. The entire league mourns the loss of a great leader and visionary who oversaw the growth and evolution of the Ontario Hockey League, always prioritizing the players and putting their experience first."

"The CHL would not be the top development hockey league in the world without David Branch," said Dan MacKenzie, President of the CHL. "His relentless focus on the player experience, both on and off the ice, will be his greatest legacy, as the game is safer, faster, and more skilled because of his influence and leadership. David had both the vision and the will to do big things, and he brought people together to get them done. He was a true builder, and his rightful place should be in the Hockey Hall of Fame one day."

Mr. Branch's contributions to Canadian hockey were formally recognized in 2016 when he received the Order of Hockey in Canada, an honour befitting someone who dedicated his life to building the game at the grassroots and development levels. In 2017, he was inducted into the Whitby Sports Hall of Fame as a builder, further underscoring his strong advocacy and support for local minor hockey. Mr. Branch also served on the Hockey Hall of Fame Selection Committee, lending his expertise and deep knowledge of the game to honour its greatest contributors.

His legacy has also been commemorated through awards that bear his name, highlighted by the CHL David Branch Player of the Year Award (renamed in 2019–20) – the CHL's top individual honour, presented annually to the player judged to be the most outstanding across the Canadian Hockey League – along with a number of OHL initiatives established in recognition of his career including the David Branch Leader of the Year Award, presented annually to the OHL's top executive.

Throughout his career, Mr. Branch was known not only for his administrative acumen but for his genuine care for the young athletes under the OHL's stewardship. He understood that junior hockey was about more than developing players for professional careers—it was about developing young people for life.

The hockey world has lost a true builder of the game, whose impact will be felt for generations to come.

The CHL and the OHL send thoughts and condolences to David's family, most notably his partner Patsy, along with sons Barclay, Kyle and Wade and their wives as well as David's grandchildren at this most difficult time.

How Do New Additions Change Expectations For Windsor Spitfires?

Adding to the roster doesn't just excite players and fans.

For Windsor Spitfires' head coach Greg Walters, this is his seventh season as a head coach in the Ontario Hockey League, but the first time he's seen the team he was coaching push its chips into the middle of the table for a title run.

The deal for forwards Nathan Villeneuve, overager Alex Pharand and defenceman Jakub Fibigr for two former second-round picks and 11 future OHL Draft picks made it clear Windsor will try to make a title run this season.

"First time (going all in)," Walters said. "I'm extremely proud of our players here to make Billy (Bowler, the club's general manager) feel we have the team and structure to go out and buy players and try to get better.

"We're extremely excited. It's a new challenge, but more importantly, Billy did an unbelievable job with three great players."

Do the deals raise expectations?

"For sure it does," Walters said. "The expectations have been there all year. With the group we had coming back and our record shows we're one of the top teams and we've gone about our business every day wanting to finish first and this helps that."

Heading into Thursday home game against Erie, the Spitfires are on pace for 100 points for just the third time in modern franchise history and the first since 2009-10 when the club went on to win its second Memorial Cup.

That record has been produced despite the team's offence dropping by seven/tenths of a goal per game this season compared to a year ago although the team is still third overall in the league averaging 3.84 goals per game.

"Adding these guys, our offensive numbers should go up for sure," Walters said.

Where do the new guys fit in?

Villeneuve, whose 44 points in 28 games are more than any player on the Windsor roster, will stay at centre and start with captain Liam Greentree on one wing.

Greentree has 16 goals and 32 points in 23 games, but that's well off last year's total where he posted 49 goals and 119 points in 64 games playing with Ilya Protas at centre.

"Villeneuve will be with Greentree for sure and both are men and proven scorers," said Walters, who was still debating who to put on the other wing.

Pharand had been playing centre for Sudbury and both he and Villeneuve were winning draws at more than 50 per cent. However, Walters plans to start Pharand on right wing where the Spitfires are thin on right-handed shots.

"We're extremely deep, especially down the middle," Walters said. "We'll work our way through it and find some chemistry."

How Do New Additions Change Expectations For Windsor Spitfires?

By Jim Parker, Windsor Star

As for Fibigr, he arrives at a good time with defenceman Conor Walton suspended for this week's three games after exceeding the league's fight, instigator threshold on Saturday against Erie.

"He (Fibigr) is a pro," Walters said. "He plays 200 feet and eats minutes."

Will there be an adjustment period?

"One million per cent and chemistry is huge," Walters said. "We're very structured and very detailed and guys need time to learn the systems, structure and culture and everything has to be about the team moving forward."

With the best record in the Western Conference and just a few points back of the best mark in the league overall, Walters makes it clear this was a good team before the three additions and the focus now is to remain at that level and try to improve.

"They're very competitive people, but they're not coming in to be our saviours," Walters said. "We're 26-8(-3-1) and they need to come in and fit into something we feel can be special."

"There are no individuals. It's all about the team and trying to win a championship."

Is there more good roster news?

Not only did the Spitfires add three veteran players to the roster this week, but the club will also get its captain back as Greentree returns after playing for Canada at the World Junior Hockey Championship and alternate captain A.J. Spellacy returns after playing for the United States.

"That's five men walking into the building," Walters said. "We're very excited."

The club went 5-2 with Greentree out of the lineup with both losses by a single goal on the road while the team was 5-1 without Spellacy.

"We've held the fort with them away," Walters said.
